the story started on november 15, 2014, when someone birding floyd bennett field, in brooklyn, came across a kingbird with a yellow belly the immediate postwar era is over