it has a long half-life and a mechanism of action similar to that of amiodarone alarmingly, according to the drug abuse warning network in 2004 there were 1.3 million emergency room visits that were associated with drug addiction and abuse being chased is not a fun feeling, and avoiding the inevitable is a difficult task to accomplish. initially, the patients who got solanezumab saw their symptoms worsen less than those who received placebo but really, the only reason i ever travel the distance is for the fries and habanero ketchup next time i'm there i will have a paper bag handy and grab as much habanero ketchup packs as possible